UNISON's Ethical Care Charter

We cannot go on like this. Care users and care workers across the UK are in desperate need of change. Getting all councils to adopt UNISON's Ethical Care Charter offers a practical way to improve the standard of homecare throughout our communities.

Together we must all call for a care system that is properly funded and treats our care users and care workers with dignity. We must save care now.

Ethical care charter for the commissioning of homecare services

Stage 1

- The starting point for commissioning of visits will be client need and not minutes or tasks. Workers will have the freedom to provide appropriate care and will be given time to talk to their clients
- The time allocated to visits will match the needs of the clients. In general, 15-minute visits will not be used as they undermine the dignity of the clients
- Homecare workers will be paid for their travel time, their travel costs and other necessary expenses such as mobile phones
- Visits will be scheduled so that homecare workers are not forced to rush their time with clients or leave their clients early to get to the next one on time
- Those homecare workers who are eligible must be paid statutory sick pay

Stage 2

- Clients will be allocated the same homecare worker(s) wherever possible
- Zero hour contracts will not be used in place of permanent contracts
- Providers will have a clear and accountable procedure for following up staff concerns about their clients' wellbeing
- All homecare workers will be regularly trained to the necessary standard to provide a good service (at no cost to themselves and in work time)
- Homecare workers will be given the opportunity to regularly meet co-workers to share best practice and limit their isolation

Stage 3

- All homecare workers will be paid at least the Living Wage. The Living Wage is calculated every November.
- If Council employed homecare workers paid above this rate are outsourced it should be on the basis that the provider is required, and is funded, to maintain these pay levels throughout the contract
- All homecare workers will be covered by an occupational sick pay scheme to ensure that staff do not feel pressurised to work when they are ill in order to protect the welfare of their vulnerable clients.
